

Chief Keith Meadows is the 1st Chief of Police for the City of South Fulton, he was appointed July 27, 2018. He is a successful Command Level Executive with over 35 years of Law Enforcement experience. This highly accomplished visionary law enforcement executive is a strong supporter of 21st Century Policing principles and champions the guardian mindset as it relates to public safety.

During his career Meadows served in many different capacities, most recently as the Chief of Police in the City of College Park. He implemented similar Intelligence Driven strategies in this jurisdiction and the city experienced an overall crime reduction of 38%.

On August 2, 2015 Meadows retired from the Atlanta Police Department after nearly a 30-year career. He served as the Commander over the Major Crimes Section which includes the following units: Homicide, Special Victims, Commercial Robbery, Fugitive, School Detectives, Auto Theft and Major Fraud.

During his law enforcement career Chief Meadows served on a number of boards and received numerous awards and certificates, to include being honored as a Social Justice Champion at the Ebony Power 100 Awards in October 2021.

Chief Meadows is married to Senior Crime Analyst Tanya Meadows and they are the proud parents of 4 sons; Williams, Marcus, Adrian and Branden. He is a graduate of Northside High School in the Atlanta Public Schools System, holds a Bachelor of Arts in Criminal Justice and a Masters in Public Safety Administration from Columbus State University.